PHILIP NUNN, an ex-policeman, about half-past ten o'clock last night, attempted suicide by cutting his throat, at his house, No. 22 Rittenhouse street. He was, however, interrupted in the act, and his wounds are not thought to be serious.

Richmond, Rogers, McCarty, Abbot and Connelley, was appointed by the Board of Councilmen yesterday, to act with a similar committee from the Aldermen, with Trustees of wards containing planks, to confer with owners of planks and ascertain for what they can be purchased.

THE hat-tention of the audience last night at the Robinson Opera-house meeting was at one time about equally divided between the speaker, lightly, and a blonde reporter who lost his head gear. After pawing the stage fifteen minutes by the watch, some kind soul went back and relieved his anxiety by pointing it out to him.

HON. J. SELLA MARTIN is to deliver an address at Union Chapel, on Seventh street, between Central avenue and Plum street, on Monday evening next, at 8 o'clock. Subject: "What ought colored men to do in the present political crisis." St. Xavier's College. The opening of the ensuing college year at St. Xavier occurs on Monday next. The excellent corps of instructors, added to the numerous other advantages which this college possesses, gives it a high standing among the educational institutions of the city, and, in fact, of this section.

Out on a spree, and out of her money. A lady named Mary L. Corwin, yesterday, after being out all day, fell in with a frail woman at the corner of Sixth and Plum streets. This woman, who after having made the lady drunk, ordered a hack and took her to her room, where she remained until morning, when she was found by her friends. The lady Corwin, who was very ill, was taken to her room, where she remained until morning, when she was found by her friends.

THE Conference of Workingmen. A national conference of representative workmen of the country is to assemble in the city, on Tuesday next, at 11 o'clock A. M. It will consist of delegates from all parts of the country, and will consider the questions of special interest to the working people of the United States.

Concerning the meeting, the Syracuse Worker says: "All interested in the labor and financial reform movement are turning their attention toward the Cincinnati conference of farmers, mechanics and workers of all classes, which will meet on the first Tuesday in September next. It will be composed of not less than five hundred representative men and women, desirous of adopting the best plan of operation for securing parity of government administration and justice to the industrial millions. It will be one of the most important gatherings since that which assembled in Philadelphia on the 4th of July, 1776."

Hon. Horace H. Day thus speaks of the work to be accomplished by the meeting: "We will enter upon the work of consulting as to how to reconcile our own different interests, throughout the whole land, North, South, East and West, and agree upon certain fundamental principles which we will resolve shall become the law of this land, and after such mature deliberation all who agree at that conference and counsel will sign their names to these principles and propositions. We will publish them all over the land. If there are 100 or 500 men there in that conference who agree and whose names go out attached to our principles and propositions, then the laboring, toiling masses have themselves started a political party to rally around, and we will have no longer to vote our enemies into power over us. Then will we have begun the work of reconstruction and of our own redemption. Then we will have a common purpose, a common interest, and a co-operative effort with every other, and different class of industrious workingmen."

Chickering Institute.

The public schools, efficient as they are in many respects, are unfortunately not the only places where our youth may enjoy superior training. Among the private schools that have been established in Cincinnati, the Chickering Institute stands pre-eminent. It is a school for boys, and has four departments—the Preparatory, the Intermediate, the Scientific and the Classical, in each of which the course of study is logically arranged. The requirements are such that no boy can pass to the next higher grade, except upon giving evidence by severe written examinations that he has been thorough in his work.

The graduates of this school are able to enter the best colleges and scientific schools without conditions. The present Senior Class, we observe, numbers nineteen, and of these seven have attained the Honor Grade, for excellence in scholarship. The Commencement exercises will take place in the Vine-street Congregational Church on the 11th of June.

It is hardly necessary to say to the people of this community that this excellent school has attained its great success through the well directed and enthusiastic efforts of the Principal and his able associates, one of whom, Professor Bartholomew, has had charge of his department for a period of fifteen years; another, Professor Venable, fourteen years.

It is very gratifying to find that there exists in our midst a school at once so thorough in its instruction, so complete in its appointments, so popular, and, not least, established upon so firm a financial basis. Pupils from the country are able, through the Principal, to procure board in private families.

DR. SHERMAN, of New York, celebrated for his successful treatment of rupture, has opened a branch office at 10 West Third street, in this city, where people desiring attention at his hands will be able to consult him. He is one of the most experienced practitioners in that line in the country, and his appliances and method of treatment have a reputation from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and his advent is always hailed with delight by people who are afflicted with this painful and distressing ailment. He secured his services at once, and rid themselves of the annoyances and mortification of having to wear trusses.

GREAT POPULARITY. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and Special Flavorings, Nectarine, Rose, Lemon, etc., have been before the public many years and have gained for themselves, on their own merits, an extensive sale, both in the country and the British Empire. Their great popularity is mainly due to the scrupulous manner in which they are prepared, the using of the purest and best materials, with special reform in their healthfulness. We never tire of using them for they are always the same. Articles in which they are used have no disagreeable odor or sickly taste, but are always enjoyable.
